Welcome to Taipei International Club

Head: Bess Shih Contact: Jeannie Tien Telephone: 886-2-27320783
Website: http://www.wtic.org.tw

Background

Marian Adair, wife of an American congressman and the founder of Welcome to Washington International Club, founded Welcome Clubs International in 1986. Seeking to expand the scope of Welcome Clubs International, Adair invited Julie Chien, wife of the Republic of China's representative to the United States at that time, to establish a branch in Taipei, which became known as Welcome to Taipei International Club.

Purpose

Welcome to Taipei International Club was established to play hostess to women who are new to the city. The club's objectives are to help foreign guests adjust to life in Taipei by acquainting them with the local culture, history and traditions. Such exchanges will not only broaden members' cultural perspectives but also forge strong friendships based on new understandings.

Organization

The club is a nonprofit organization comprising 270 members from around the world. The club's directors, supervisors and executive board members all serve in unpaid positions.

Membership of International Organizations

Address: 11F., No.2, Jian 8th Rd., Zhonghe Dist., New Taipei City 235, Taiwan (R.O.C.)
Website: http://tcrp.org.tw

Background

The concept behind the Taiwan Conference on Religion and Peace was planted by a delegation representing the Asian Conference on Religion and Peace. During a 1993 visit by then-chairman Wong-Yong Kang (of Korean descent) and assistant secretary-general Shin'ichi Noguchi (of Japanese descent) to discuss the Asian Conference on Religion and Peace doctrines with the main religious organizations in Taiwan, the Taiwanese religious community reacted with great enthusiasm to the proposal of establishing a Conference on Religion and Peace. In the following year, the Taiwan Conference on Religion and Peace was founded by the Taiwanese religious community.

Purpose

Based upon the spirit of religious fraternity, the conference is devoted to bringing further understanding and cooperation among the different religious groups in Taiwan. Through religious, cultural, educational and humanitarian means, the conference hopes to bring to light the virtues of truth, goodness and beauty that are embodied by the best of humanity and contribute to the peaceful progress of society.

Organization

The general assembly holds the highest authority which sets up a 21-seat board of directors and a 5-member board of supervisors. The conference's affairs are managed by the president, vice president, and 5 executive directors with a secretary general and several secretaries assisting on voluntary basis.

Address: 14F.-1, No.166, Fuya Rd., Xitun Dist., Taichung City 407, Taiwan (R.O.C.)
Website: http://www.ccmm.org.tw

Background

As Sister Louise, a missionary from Holland, founded the Chinese Hospital Christian Fellowship in 1974, another group of local doctors with similar humanitarian objectives established the Chinese Christian Medical Mission in 1977. The two groups merged in 1983, using the English title as Chinese Christian Medical Mission and formally registering with the government as a nonprofit organization in 1984.

Purpose

- To recruit local churches in spreading God's words through medical aid and assistance;
- To play an active role in mitigating the nation's social and medical issues;
- To nurture new generations of medical missionaries;
- To provide humanitarian aid to regions lacking in medical resources;
- To assist fellow Christians working in the healthcare sector in forming fellowships and participating in medical missions.

Organization

The board of directors and the executive committee are assisted by an executive director to manage the affairs of the mission. The four branch offices are situated in Taipei, Taichung, Tainan and Kaohsiung. Services also come from a dental missionary group, the Salween River Medical Team, the Luke Fellowship Family, and a Christian praise team.

Membership of International Organizations

- Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Mission (formerly the Finnish Missionary Society)
- Norwegian Mission Alliance

International Participation

- In 2011, the mission attended the Healthcare Christian Fellowship International Jubilee Conference in Manila, the Philippines.
- From 2011 to 2012, in partnership with organizations including the Church of Christ in Mainland China, the Chinese Baptist Convention, the Grace Ministries Foundation Thailand, the Keelung Chang Gung Memorial Hospital, the Kaohsiung Faith and Love Church and the Neighborhood Love & Care Depot in Tainan, the mission helped deliver medical resources and provide medical aid to remote regions such as Cambodia, Nepal, Thailand, Inner Mongolia, India and Kenya.

The World Kwong Tong Community Association

Head: Huang Yeh Mei-ying Contact: Huang Ko-yin
Telephone: 886-2-23410090 Fax: 886-2-23414862
Address: 3F., No.1, Ningpo E. St., Zhongzheng Dist., Taipei City 100, Taiwan (R.O.C.)

Background

Prior to being founded in Taipei in 1990, the organizers behind the World Kwong Tong Community Association had already arranged the annual reunion of Kwong Tong communities for 14 years, a Chinese-American affair that was attended mostly by Chinese and Cantonese immigrants to the United States. The decision to hold the 15th annual reunion in Taipei City in October 1990 was mainly influenced by the organizers' wishes to expand the reunion's members and scope. The association was formally established during the 15th reunion, and has since opened branches in Southern California, Houston, Chicago, New York and Miami.

Purpose

The association aims to promote fellowship and unity among Kwong Tong communities and to preserve the spirit of the Kwong Tong people. The association's efforts include promoting cultural and economic development as well as providing assistance to the local public welfare enterprises among Kwong Tong communities around the world.

Organization

The association is governed by a 35-seat board of directors and an 11-member board of supervisors with 11 reserve directors and 3 reserve supervisors. Given the association's status as an international entity, the governing boards are stipulated to be filled with two-third local members and one-third foreign members.

International Participation

- From 1993 to present, the association has organized the annual reunion of the Kwong Tong communities, an international event that is held at different locations around the world.
- In 2006, the association hosted the 11th reunion of the Kwong Tong communities in Taipei.
- In 2009, the association hosted the 12th reunion of the Kwong Tong communities in Taipei.
- In 2011, the association hosted the 13th reunion of the Kwong Tong communities in Miami.
